

If you are a community member you can join our group and share your personal stories, what changes you would like to see made in education and engage in conversation with amazing advocates who are doing the work. Your stories are what empowers us to empower you. You can share your stories in multiple ways: you can email them to educationadvocacyawareness@gmail.com, you can post them on our fb group page, or you can post a video. Share as much as you want!